

I believe there is entirely too much violence on television which is having an adverse effect on children and society as a whole. I would like for the government to step in and expand indecency rules to include violence.